PENA PALACE

A romantic palace of bold colors and unexpected forms, set high above the hills of Sintra.

Towers and terraces open onto wide views, where forest and sky seem to meet.

It is a place to wander slowly, to observe, and to feel the quiet dialogue between history and landscape.

Why it stays with you

The sense of wonder

The views and settings

The emotion of the place

SINTRA PALACE

At the heart of Sintra, the National Palace opens into a world shaped by time and quiet presence.

Moving from room to room, details, patterns, and light carry a sense of lives once lived.

History feels close here — not distant or grand, but human, inviting a slower pace and attentive observation.

Why it stays with you

The quiet storytelling behind its walls

The closeness of history

The contrast of simplicity and power

REGALEIRA

Quinta da Regaleira invites a slow, attentive exploration, where curiosity moves gently through silence.

Paths twist, spaces open and close, and each turn offers a pause — among gardens, stone, and shadow.

It is a place that reveals itself gradually, leaving space for imagination and personal meaning.

Why it stays with you

Its feeling of mystery

A sense of inner travel

The dialogue with nature

MONSERRATE

Monserate Palace invites you into the romantic soul of Sintra. Rising gently from its gardens, it feels like a fairy tale shaped in stone, blending Gothic, Indian, and Arab influences.

Here, architecture and landscape flow together. Lush gardens, curved lines, and delicate details create a rich play of colors and forms that unfold slowly as you walk.

It is a place to wander and feel, where nature and history meet in a quiet, lasting way.

Why it stays with you

Its invitation to slow down
The feeling of a walk through a dream
The quiet impression it leaves on you

CORK CONVENT

The Convent of the Capuchos is a place of quiet retreat, shaped by simplicity and reflection.

Built in the 16th century, the convent was designed for a humble life. Stone, wood, and cork replace ornament, creating spaces where comfort gives way to contemplation.

Here, silence becomes part of the experience — a rare moment to pause, breathe, and connect with a deeper sense of calm.

Why it stays with you

The silence of the forest

Its one-of-a-kind cork architecture

The feeling of humility and presence

SINTRA OLD TOWN

Recognized as a UNESCO World Heritage Site, the old town of Sintra unfolds through everyday life.

Narrow streets and small squares shape a steady rhythm, where the past feels present without calling attention to itself.

As you wander, traces of time appear quietly — in the streets, the buildings, and the way life continues.

Why it stays with you

The charm on its medieval streets

The contrast of layers

The picturesque palaces on the hills

CABO DA ROCA

Cabo da Roca is a place where the land seems to pause before meeting the ocean, standing at the westernmost point of continental Europe.

For centuries, this edge of land was believed to be the end of the known world. Even today, that feeling remains — a quiet awareness of distance, depth, and possibility.

Here, wind, sea, and sky take the lead, offering a moment of presence where words feel unnecessary.

Why it stays with you

The feeling of standing at the edge
The openness of the horizon
Its raw beauty

CASCAIS

Cascais carries the ease of a seaside retreat, shaped by time and the pull of the ocean.

Past and present move together here, guided by coastal light, open promenades, and daily life by the water.

The sea is never far, setting a rhythm that invites pause, breath, and simple enjoyment.

Why it stays with you

The coastal mood
The connection to the sea
A feeling of lightness

Lo! Cintra's glorious
Eden intervenes
In variegated maze
of mount and glen.

CLASSIC JOURNEY

Lisbon - Sintra - Cabo da Roca - Cascais

Optional extension to a third attraction

MORNING

Pick up at your hotel and departure to Sintra.

We begin the day at Pena Palace, where vibrant colors and romantic architecture reveal one of Sintra's most iconic landmarks.

MIDDAY

We descend the hills toward the historic village for a short walk and try the iconic Travesseiros de Sintra, a local delicacy.

We'll head towards our seafood restaurant, a queen's favorite by the ocean, or stay in the old town in a traditional restaurant.

Sintra's architecture reflects centuries of romanticism, imagination, and a dialogue with the natural landscape.

AFTERNOON

It's time to visit one of our best-kept secrets, a quiet gem from the reign of King Philip I — the Cork Convent.

From here, we continue to Cabo da Roca.

We visit the westernmost point of continental Europe, a meaningful landmark for those who have long navigated this coastline.

We head to Cascais, the Portuguese Riviera.

We pass through the streets where nobles and royalty once built their summer villas, then make our way down to explore the charming historic center.

Dramatic cliffs and an endless horizon at the westernmost point of continental Europe.

RETURN

We return to Lisbon along the coastal road, accompanied by Atlantic landscapes of rare beauty.

We arrive back at the hotel in Lisbon, closing the day with the feeling of a journey fully lived.
