Wine Journey LX

Wine in Portugal is inseparable from landscape. Granite hills in the north, schist valleys in the Douro, Atlantic winds along the coast.

A tasting in Lisbon becomes a journey through these regions, a sensory way to understand the country through its vineyards.

This tasting offers three ways to approach that diversity.

Classic

First Introduction

A relaxed tasting of three Portuguese wines, presented with a brief introduction to the country's main wine regions and grape varieties.

A simple way to gain orientation and appreciation before dinner or an evening in the city.

The wine I drink is the sun
that fell on the earth,
It is the light that was liquid
and now warms my blood.
I drink the landscape, the heat of the afternoon,
And I find that the world is right inside my glass.

— Fernando Pessoa, Portuguese writer.
